The DBP Code of Ethics is downloadable from the DBP website.

2) Does the bank disclose that all directors, officers and employees are required to comply with the code?

The Bank's directors, officers, and employees are made aware by the Code of Ethics of the prohibited acts and transactions whereby the commission thereof will subject the personnel concerned to appropriate administrative disciplinary actions.

3) Has the code of ethics or conduct been disseminated to all directors, senior management and employees?

The Bank ensures the continued implementation and observance of the provisions of the Code of Ethics through information dissemination and inclusion of the topic in the module for the orientation of new hires. Meanwhile, all Directors are given a copy of the Code at the start of their term.

4) Discuss how the company implements and monitors compliance with the code of ethics or conduct.

The Bank continues to implement its Good Governance Program (GGP) which seeks to reinforce core ethical values critical to corporate governance. These values dictate how the Bank deals with stakeholders including the National Government, clients, subsidiaries, regulatory agencies, and its own officials and employees. Every year, DBP holds bank-wide governance-related activities featuring its Good Governance Forum. Among these are lectures or presentations on critical governance initiatives such as the Code of Ethics, "No Gift Policy", and the like. It also conducts mandatory Corporate Governance seminars and capacity-building activities for Bank personnel to promote good governance policies, initiatives, and best practices within DBP.

To monitor compliance with the code, the Bank has put in place the following:

- a) Whistleblower Policy (DBP Circular No. 16, S. 2013) which encourages responsible reporting of acts or omissions constituting illegal activity such as violation of the Code of Ethics.
- b) Bank-wide Governance Circles which are designed to promote active engagement of all Bank officers and employees and establish an effective and dynamic feedback mechanism. The DBP Governance Circles are spread across the Bank and are proven to be a source of practical and relevant feedback concerning the implementation of pertinent policies or programs. Regular meetings of the Governance Circles are documented and the suggestions/feedback were disseminated to appropriate business units.

E. RISK MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

1) Disclose the following:

(a) Risk management systems in place;

MANAGEMENT OF RISK

The responsibility of risk management resides in all levels of the organization with the Board of Directors being ultimately responsible for the overall risk of the Bank. The Board sets the tone and risk tolerance by articulating the Bank's risk appetite and establishing the risk management strategy for the Bank. The Banks Board of Directors takes the lead in promoting a culture of risk awareness throughout the institution. The Enterprise Risk Management Sector recommends policies and methodologies. Risk and capital management is then performed at all levels of the organization, instituting a culture of risk awareness and a risk-based approach to decision-making. Management of risk is guided and monitored by various Bank committees such as the Risk Oversight Committee, Governance Committee, Development Advocacy Committee, Audit and Compliance Committee, Executive Credit Committee, Executive Committee, Financial Risk Management Subcommittee, Asset & Liability Management Committee, Management Committee, Trust Committee, and IT Steering Committee, among others.

Management and the Board are provided with detailed analysis of the Bank's portfolio and a comprehensive assessment of its overall risk profile to serve as guide in strategy formulation in the year 2020. The Bank follows an ER framework which integrates Strategic Planning, the Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process and Business Continuity Planning. The ER involves risk assessment and identification from which formulation of risk management strategies emanates. Strategies take into account capital implications and other requirements to ensure continuity of developmental service to the nation. These risk strategies, when implemented, are subject to monitoring and further evaluation with the aim of continually improving the risk management process. Capital adequacy rounds these up as it is needed to ensure financial stability as objectives are achieved even as risk management is enhanced.

They also revisited and reviewed pertinent credit policies and guidelines in view of the effects of the pandemic on borrowers' repayment capabilities. With these fundamental values, DBP shall consistently strive to provide banking and financial products and services in a fair and equitable manner that promotes consumer empowerment and confidence in the banking and financial services sector. The DBP Financial Consumer Protection (FCP) Framework institutionalizes consumer protection as an integral component of corporate governance and risk management. This, in turn, creates an environment conducive for managing consumer protection risks inherent to the operations of the Bank. Implemented across all Business Unit, DBP also seeks to foster a customer-centric mindset and institutionalizes a strong culture of service to provide adequate, fair, responsive, and inclusive financial services. Strategic to the implementation of this framework FCP is a fully functioning consumer assistance mechanism. With the overall objective of continually improving the delivery and responsiveness of the Bank's products and services to the public, DBP's consumer assistance strategy is anchored on quality service and customer satisfaction through the effective management of customer feedback (i.e., suggestions, requests, inquiries, and commendations) and complaints. The DBP consumer assistance mechanism focuses on the sustained implementation of a more effective DBP Customer Feedback and Complaints Handling Program towards improved customer service experience. The DBP consumer assistance mechanism covers processes and procedures in receiving, processing, evaluating/analyzing, monitoring, interpreting, and resolving customer feedback and complaints sent received through the following channels: Verbal (i.e., Phone, Walk-in) and Written (i.e., Email, Complaints Form, Correspondence). In compliance with GCG's mandatory requirements, the Bank also conducts an annual Customer Satisfaction Survey through a research service provider to determine the customer's satisfaction level with the Bank's products and services.

The Bank tasked the Customer Experience Management Department – Customer Care Unit (CEMD-CCU) to handle customer service and designed a Customer Service Officer in all Business Units to serve as the focal person in handling customer inquiries, requests, and complaints from receipt through resolution. Both CEMU-CCU and CSO ensure the timely resolution of customer concerns and provides monthly reports to the Customer Experience Management Department-Customer Concerns Analytics Unit (CEMD-CCAU). All submitted reports are then consolidated for monitoring, evaluation, and analysis to identify major and recurring issues as well as possible solutions. CEMD then presents the report to the Management Committee and the Board of Directors to determine the Bank's next steps.

In 2020, the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic worldwide triggered the immediate activation and continuous implementation of the Bank's Business Continuity Plan (BCP). The Bank dealt with constraints ranging from shortened bank hours, limited availability of branches and lending centers (e.g., branches in areas under lockdown), operational limitations of skeletal workforce, and enforcement of health and safety protocols which increased customer's preference of online banking.

DBP ensured that its Management Committee was readily available to evaluate and approve vital operational matters to sustain the Bank's delivery of services and continuously respond to the pressing needs of its customers. The Bank likewise assigned a skeletal workforce across business units with critical banking operations (e.g., Branches, Lending Centers, CEMD, Electronic Channels Operations Department, etc.). To augment ATM down time and address branches subjected to temporary closures, the Bank identified buddy branches at strategic locations to provide over-the-counter banking services.

The Bank, through its Procurement and Facilities Management Group, also provided bank service vehicles and leased private buses to ferry employees to and from the nearest pick-up and drop-off points in various locations to ensure the safety of DBP employees. PFMG facilitated bio-misting of the DBP HO Building and undertook regular disinfection of work areas, public spaces and other high contact surfaces, such as door handles, counter tops, tables, doorknobs, and automated teller machines. PFMG also assisted in the conversion of a day care room into isolation room for suspected COVID-19 patients

Meanwhile, in line with the Bank's Financial Consumer Protection Framework, the Bank ensured the timely dissemination of critical information to customers through its various communication channels in the past year. These include the following:

- Daily availability of branches and business hours (DBP Website and Facebook page)

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Availability of the Bank’s Customer Service for assistance and filing of concerns received from walk-in customers and via telephone, email, social media (Facebook Page), and 24/7 ATM Center (ECOD) • COVID-19 related advisories (e.g., health and safety protocols, waiver of bank fees, recommendation to shift to online channels), and signage (Bank premises, DBP website, and Facebook account) Consistent with the health and safety guidelines, the Bank equipped customer facing units with thermal scanners, face shields and masks, hand sanitizers, foot and tire baths, and strictly complied with the social distancing protocols to ensure the safety of both Bank personnel and customers. The ECOD maintained its 24/7 operations to assist customers with urgent ATM concerns and transactions (e.g., lost ATM cards). Other initiatives of the bank in 2020 include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • DBP enforced standard monitoring and health protocols prescribed by the Inter-Agency Task Force. • The Bank’s Development Lending Center – Lending Program Management Group implemented aided micro, small, and medium enterprises affected by the pandemic through DBP’s MSME Response Program. • In anticipation of BIR payments, DBP extended over-the-counter payment collections during weekends in select branches for a limited period. • The Bank initiated a system upgrade to support and expedite the processing of banking transactions.
(b) Environmentally friendly value chain	DBP Environmental Policy Policy Statement: The DBP, in its developmental mission and initiatives, is committed to environmental protection and sustainable development and shall integrate and implement environmental considerations into all aspects of its operations and services, asset management, and business decisions. In pursuit of this policy, DBP commits to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Develop, implement and continually improve an Environmental Management System (EMS); • Encourage other institutions to pursue environmental protection and pollution prevention through the Bank’s lending and technical assistance programs, and pursue environmental management practices, including environmental due diligence inquiry in risk assessment and management; • Comply with relevant environmental laws, regulations and agreements to which DBP subscribes; • Mainstream environmental, social, and climate change risks reduction in its operations and lending activities; • Set and review environmental objectives and targets along identified significant environmental aspects; and • Ensure that all employees at all levels are made aware of and are actively involved in the Bank’s Environmental Policy and programs through appropriate training and information.

Internal Efforts

Through the Bank's continuing ISO 14001:2015 Certification of its EMS, DBP strives to continually green its value chain in the past year. The Bank recognizes the impact it makes to the environment, from its internal operations and from the products and services it provides.

As a development financial institution, DBP recognizes its unique position to influence environmental awareness among its clients, partners, suppliers and other stakeholders – being part of the Value Chain. As such, DBP continuously implemented environmental activities in 2020 to create and maintain an environmentally friendly value chain as part of the Bank's environmental advocacy. These include:

1. Setting environmental objectives and targets based on the Bank's Strategic environmental Plan and significant environmental aspects that impact the value chain
2. DBP's compliance with environmental laws, regulations, and pertinent agreements that also extend to pertinent compliance obligations of partners and interested parties
3. Development and adoption of value chain – led environmental programs

The Bank promotes the efficient use of resources and design programs in support thereof. This includes the use of environment-friendly office supplies, machinery, and equipment intended to address the Bank's potential negative impact to the environment.

Appropriate training and information dissemination activities are likewise executed to ensure employee awareness and engagement at all levels. Internally, DBP strengthens environmental competencies of its workforce through training and awareness-building sessions to ensure conduct of life-cycle assessment and support value chain management.

4. Encouraging clients to pursue environmental protection and pollution prevention

DBP integrates environmental and social diligence in its credit policies and procedures. This is carried out through lending and technical assistance programs that require the conduct of environmental due diligence as part of its risk assessment and management.

The Bank identifies environmental and social risks that may undermine the viability of financed projects. This is intended to improve clients' environmental management practices, as well as in their compliance with environmental regulations and standards.

DBP's various lending programs encourage clients to adopt sustainable business practices and help them capitalize on opportunities that bring positive impacts to the environment and the community where they are located.

5. Influencing suppliers and service providers to pursue environmental practices

This underscores the ISO-aligned principle on life cycle perspective that covers acquisition, use, transportation, delivery, treatment and disposal of supplies and equipment procured by the Bank. As applicable, environmental requirements are included in the technical specification of materials to be procured. Hazardous wastes generated by the Bank such as used oil, busted lamps, used batteries, empty printer ink cartridges, other wastes, etc. are disposed through a treatment, storage, and disposal (TSD) facility accredited by the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources.

Overall, DBP seeks to improve the overall sustainability of the entire chain by optimizing its links with concerned interested parties. At various points of collaboration, the Bank rationalizes its inputs into the value chain and controls its output that may potentially affect the natural environment. In terms of inputs, DBP improves its resource efficiency related to water, paper and energy consumption. In terms of outputs, the Bank's approaches focus on the prevention of pollution and wastage, and drawing on methods for control, following the life cycle perspective.

Sustainable Financing

DBP plays a catalytic role in financing projects with economic, environmental, and social impact. Its initiatives specifically aim at four priority thrusts: environmental protection, infrastructure development, social services, and micro, small, and medium enterprises' (MSMEs) development. These programs are aligned with the Philippine Development Plan's framework of inclusive growth that is sustainable, generates mass employment, and reduces poverty, as well as with the focus areas of the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals.

In delivering banking and finance services, DBP adheres to sustainability principles in its operations and business decisions. The Bank's environmental efforts are critical especially because the Philippines is considered to be highly vulnerable to the impacts of climate change and natural hazards. DBP thus responds to the call for climate action by signing statements of support to both local and international initiatives.

Aside from minimizing environmental impacts of its own internal operations, DBP's stewardship extends towards influencing clients in adopting sustainability mechanisms and integrating environmental responsibility in their businesses. The conduct of due diligence on loan proposals prior to approval covers the analysis of potential environmental, social, and climate change impacts and corresponding mitigation measures. Each project is tagged according to environmental risk categorization, and, in the case of high risk projects, a more detailed assessment is made. Monitoring is also part of the credit process to ensure that projects comply with the required environmental permitting requirements and clearances which mitigating measures continue to be in place, and that benefits are realized.

DBP understands that progress must look beyond the bottom line. It believes that good economic performance must be anchored on prosperity that is equitably shared by all. The financial growth that DBP consistently attains each year continues to benefit its stakeholders towards creating a just, equitable, sustainable, and poverty-free Philippines.

DBP continues to put in a great deal of effort and attention to extending financing support to developmental projects and activities crucial to the country socio-economic growth and the improvement of Filipino's quality of life, most especially amid the COVID-19 pandemic and its likely recessional effects.

At the same time, DFP sustained the implementation of two (2) forest projects in the LGU of Eastern Samar and OISCA Farm Multi-Purpose Cooperative, and successfully released PhP 859,000 as financial assistance. On the other hand, DBP under its RISE program has started supporting its third batch of scholars in partnership with 10 partner schools. Employee Engagement

Under the Enhanced DBP Corporate Governance Framework, the Bank continued to implement the DBP Governance Circles which serves as the key participatory governance tool to ensure proper implementation of the policies that is anchored on a culture of governance, compliance, and accountability. It is a major communication channel in cascading corporate governance programs and activities to all levels of the organization through the establishment of Governance Circles per each business unit bank-wide. Moreover, proactive feedback from one of DBP's major stakeholders - its employees - is regularly gathered through this mechanism, thus, ensuring that the outstanding issues faced by the employees are given the chance to be elevated to the Board through its Governance Committee and the Management for proper resolution. In effect, challenges encountered and observed by the employees are turned into opportunities for improvement that enhance the Bank's implementation of its policies and programs encompassing the entire operations of the Bank.

For instance, work-related issues of Bank employees assigned in regional areas, such as those involving the lack of manpower or issue concerning officers in charge and/or promotion, were quickly elevated and endorsed to the Human Resource Management Group with the instruction to provide a regular updating of the status of the foregoing issues. As a result, the Human Resource Management Group is providing regular updates to the Governance Committee on the status of these issues and proper guidance is given by the Directors in how to solve and address the current situation.

Another significant impact of the Governance Circles was it served as a constant communication channel when the COVID-19 Pandemic happened in the Philippines starting March 2020. Given that the DBP, as a government financial institution, has been identified as a crucial sector and thus, continued to operate despite the risks brought about by the pandemic, the employees were provided with adequate support and resources that aimed to prevent any disruption in the delivery of its services and at the same time, protect the welfare of the employees. Regular updating of the Bank policies and programs to combat and address the impact of the pandemic were disseminated to the Governance Circles for discussion. In turn, the Governance Circles provided their feedback and suggestions to the Management on how to better serve their needs during such time. Proposals on the improvement of the transport provision for the employees were endorsed to the proper business unit.

Various proposals coming from the Governance Circles regarding the existing policies of the Bank were considered by the Management. For example, in the implementation of the Bank's No Gift Policy, the official custodian of gifts received by the employees for donation will now be transferred to a different unit due to a more aligned mandate of this new unit in handling the gifts.

At present, there are 233 DBP Governance Circles established across the DBP head office and regional units. These circles hold regular meetings attended by employees assigned or stationed in a given area.

Health and Wellness

The Health and Wellness Unit of the Employee Relations Department (HWU-ERD) of the Bank, with two Doctors and two Nurses on duty, oversees the implementation of DBP's healthcare plan and addresses the relevant medical needs of employees. In the past year, the unit managed to hold several health-related lectures or webinars as well as its annual flu vaccination for employees and their dependents. Aside from providing dental services, they also conduct annual executive check-ups for officers and physical examinations for rank-and-file employees. It likewise implements an integrated physical fitness program (e.g. Zumba, Cardio, Kickboxing, Yoga, etc.) to ensure employees remain fit and healthy. Employees may avail of gym training with equipment every morning or after work hours. However, due to the pandemic, such activities have either been suspended or postponed.

In 2020, the unit focused its efforts on providing medical assistance and curbing the spread of COVID-19. Once the first case of COVID-19 was reported in the Philippines, HWU-ERD immediately assessed the situation and recommended the procurement of personal protective equipment and medical supplies (e.g., surgical masks, thermo canners, gloves, alcohol, etc.) as part of its measures to control the spread of the virus.

In the succeeding months, the unit assisted all employees who had COVID-19-related concerns, including those who tested positive for COVID-19, by providing medical advice and Guarantee Letters to ease their transactions. Meanwhile, medical claims processing and reimbursements, as well as hospitalization continued even with heightened health and safety protocols. Contract tracing was facilitated by the unit by Facebook Messenger Group Chats for easy access and dispensing of recommendations or instructions to employees who have been exposed or infected by COVID-19. HWU-ERD also ensured either a Nurse or Doctor is on call or duty every day to address all queries from the Head Office and Branches.

The Bank, through HWU-ERD, also accomplished the following in 2020:

- Conducted 422 Rapid Antibody Test - electrochemiluminescence immunoassay (RAT-ECLIA) for the Bank's front liners (i.e., security guards, housekeeping staff, drivers, repair and maintenance personnel, bank tellers, members of the HWU, roving tellers)
 - Employees who tested positive are immediately isolated and scheduled for a Reverse Transcription Polymerase Chain Reaction (RT-PCR) test.
- Flu Vaccination for a total of 775 employees and their dependents
- Continuous monitoring of suspected, probably, and confirmed COVID-19 cases
- Assisted 9,144 Bank employees from the head office and branches via teleconsultation and limited face-to-face consultations
 - Guided by directives released by the Department of Health and the Inter-Agency Task Force on the Management of Emerging Infectious Diseases, HWU provides employees relevant information (e.g., medical advice, contact persons from a various medical center, etc.)

ERD conducted regular virtual meetings with the Bank's Human Resource Management Group to address concerns on how to prevent or reduce the chances of being infected or spreading COVID-19 in the Bank. It likewise shifted its Integrated Physical Fitness Program to a virtual platform to ensure the employee's health and safety in the midst of the pandemic. The unit also worked with other business units, releasing various information materials, to raise awareness and ensure strict compliance with health and safety protocols. Employees and clients are also required to undergo thermal scanning and submit an accomplished health declaration form. By 2021, DBP will hold a mass vaccination of employees and their dependents to ensure both the Bank and employees' welfare.

Meanwhile, as part of the Bank's Occupational Safety and Health Awareness, DBP continuously orients new employees and conducts an 8-hour seminar for housekeeping, maintenance, and transport personnel to ensure safety in the workplace. During this seminar, employees were encouraged to provide suggestions and comments. The Bank also conducts ocular inspections within the building premises to check and identify areas for improvement.

Employee Welfare

In 2020, DBP, led by the Human Resource Management Group, Strategic Planning Group, and the Enterprise Risk Management Group (ERMG), implemented Alt-Work and support programs not only to ensure the safety of its employees but also to maintain Bank-wide productivity.

When a State of Public Health Emergency throughout the Philippines was declared in March last year, the Civil Service Commission released MC 7, series of 2020 which detailed a general framework for certain types of alternative work arrangements. The Bank, being a critical frontline service, was required to continuously provide financial services to its clients (e.g. ensure loan services remain available), implemented the Alt-Work pursuant to DBP Circular No. 20 dated June 30, 2020 or the Guidelines on Alternative Work Arrangements. It provides several types of work arrangements such as skeleton force, shifting, and work-from-home, among others, for business units providing critical, primary, or secondary services. It also included the necessary protocols that both employee and his/her supervisor must adhere to. It also ensured the continued measure of performance and productivity by setting of performance agreements and proper communication lines as well as conducting feedback and reporting meetings.

Mental Health-related and COVID-19 coping-related programs were also provided to Bank Officers and Staff by tapping internal and external experts. These programs raised the awareness of employees and helped them maintain a healthy emotional well-being.

(b) State the company's training and development programmes for its employees, including the data.

The Bank's policy on training and development is embodied in the following policies and guidelines. It is the policy of DBP to establish a continuing professional development program that will provide employees opportunities to advance their career within the organization and allow them to continuously upgrade their skills and competencies at par with the Bank and industry standards.

- DBP Competency Framework or Model

The DBP Competency model outlines 11 core competencies (required for all employees across levels), 4 leadership competencies (for people managers), and a set of distinct functional or technical competencies for identified job groups in the Bank. The results of competency assessments of Branch Heads, Account Officers and Treasury and Corporate Finance Professionals served as the basis for the design and implementation of L & D interventions for the said job groups in 2019.

- DBP Circular No. 49 dated December 18, 2018 - DBP Learning and Career Development Plan (LCDP)

The DBP-LCDP integrates guidelines on training, scholarships, and other HR interventions to strengthen the Bank's organizational capability and sustain a high-performing culture. In 2020, the Bank’s Learning and Development Program emphasized coping with and adapting to change. Considering the restrictions imposed while under community quarantine, the Human Resource Management Group (HRMG) implemented a Learn-From-Home program that allows employees to take online courses and access both the Bank’s eLearning Facility (iLearn) and eLearning platforms from reputable providers while working from home. Bank-wide employees, from the Board of Directors to Rank-and-File employees, have availed internal training programs via a blended learning approach: synchronous (webinar) or asynchronous (eLearning or micro learning). Among these programs are the Read and Learn, and Watch and Learn programs that use mixed media to improve skills and knowledge. Monthly training calendars and employee training records were also made available for viewing on the Self-Service mode of the DBP iHRIS under the Training module. The Bank likewise continues to provide external training opportunities as well as local and foreign scholarships for qualified employees.

DBP exceeded its target milestones for Learning and Development interventions. It noted a 42% increase in the total number of interventions provided, a 30% increase in career development interventions provided for key officers and staff, and a significant increase in the participation rate of employees. Key to this is the migration of trainings to an online platform which not only ensured a 100% participation rate but also reduced operating costs. Unlike the previous years, the number of Bank officers and staff who graduated from foreign master's programs and specialized short courses also increased despite the challenges brought about by the pandemic.

The Bank also established the Developing Executives, People Managers in Transition, and High-Potential Successors (DEPTHS) which integrates and beefs up the Bank's existing management and leadership programs and initiatives. Part of its initial offerings is the Leadership Development (LEAD) Reimagined. As an integral component of DEPTHS, it is a turn-key leadership development intervention that aims to unlock one's transformation and growth potential in the future of work. It is a blended learning intervention that uses the case study method, learning management portal, group collaboration, and Action Learning Project. LEAD likewise aims to develop emerging core and leadership competencies of incumbents and potential successors.

In addition, HRMG has also led the periodic review of the DBP Succession Plan in an institutionalized mechanism to ensure leadership continuity in the Bank's key critical positions in view of operational risk management. It established documented Career Development Plans of identified successors to ensure at least 80% of have formal or official Career Development Plans in 2021. Relevant information about these are included in either the Bank's internal (e.g. DBP Bulletin, DBP Newsgram, Career Updates) or external (e.g. Annual Report) publications.
